

Mr Clement Dlamini

Clement has a Bachelor of Arts in Social Sciences Degree (His Majors are Economics and Demography). He works for the Coordinating Assembly of NGOs (CANGO) as a coordinator of HIV and AIDS programmes.

His responsibilities include coordination of the NGOs response to HIV and AIDS, facilitation of community leadership trainings on national issues that impact on effective delivery of services to the HIV and AIDS both the infected and affected.

Clement has wide experience in management of projects from conceptualization through to implementation and monitoring and evaluation.

He is also chairperson of the National HIV and AIDS Monitoring and Evaluation Technical Working Group of in his country. In 2007, he published a study called, "Social Security Audit for Children in Swaziland" for Save the Children.

Clement's experience in engaging government and community stakeholders on issues around HIV/AIDS, is important to STF TAP