

Ms Andiswa HANI

Andiswa holds a Masters degree in Public Health and several diplomas in public health. She has worked as a Monitoring and Evaluation Specialist for considerable organizations such as FHI and Khomanani Communication Consortium and continues to consultant in the field.

Andiswa is a specialist in health research and has a keen interest in field. She has done significant work in the research and development of HIV/AIDS programmes as well as reproductive health particularly on contraception. On both these subjects, she has co-authored research articles that has been published in social and medical journals.

Her background is research, monitoring and evaluation is key to her participation on the STFTAP.