

Mrs Nosipho Storer

Nosipho has an Honours degree in Psychology. She works as social worker for the Bristol-Myers Squibb Baylor College of Medicine Children's Center of Excellence in Swaziland.

She is part of a team working on the roll-out for Prevention of Mother-To-Child Transmission (PMTCT) of HIV/AIDS. She provides both psychosocial and ARV adherence counseling, and is especially skilled in counseling and communicating with troubled children and children living with HIV/AIDS.

Her competencies lie in HIV/AIDS counseling and formation of support groups, these include exclusive adolescent support groups. Nosipho is also skilled in training community groups. The mix of groups she engages includes traditional birth attendants, lay counselors and buddies.

She is a member of the Swaziland association of psychologists. She would best serve the STFTAP relating to stakeholders at all levels.
